BLUES WINS SECOND SPECIAL.

GALLOPS HOME EIGHT, LENGTHS IN FRONT OF SOMBRERO.

Africander Takes the Holly Handleap in a Drive From River Pirate-Young Henry Runs a Remarkable Race - Many Spills in the Steeplechase at Gravesend.

Twenty thousand racegoers ran up against a hard game at Gravesend yesterday after-noon. Five favorites, all extensively played, were bowled over, the only successful first choice being John A. Drake's Conundrum, who got home in the last race with only a neck to spare. Frank Farrell's Blues, whose erratic performances this year have been the talk of the turf world, afforded a complete talk of the turf world, afforded a complete surprise when he romped home a winner eight lengths before Green B. Morris's Sombrero in the Second Special at a mile and a half. This was the most important event on the card, and with Hermis, Wyeth, Runnels, Francesco and Par Excellence scratched, the talent figured Sombrero a sure thing at the weights. The Star Ruby colt was accordingly the favorite at 13 to 5, while Farrell and his friends proceeded to back Blues down from 6 to 1 to 9 to 2.

From the moment the barrier flew up. Blues took the track and, running under restraint, set a stiff pace down past the standround the turn and up the backstretch. Shaw kept Sombrero within a length of him all this time, and together they drew away from the others rapidly. At the head of the stretch Sombrero made a bold attempt to get up, but when Martin let Blues down was third.

Herefort.

There were sixteen classes, including single, driving horses, saddle horses, jumpers, polo ponies, tandems, ladies' saddle horses and four-in-hands. After an exhibit of farm horses, which opened the affair in the merning, fourteen harness horses were shown. During thus a tispally dread and Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair displayed great pluck in driving her bay mare Frills to a fancy road wagon. She received the blue ribbon, Walter P. Bliss and Mrs. Charles M. Chapin getting the red and yellow.

In the first exhibit of saddle horses there were eight entries. H. P. Wertheim of Morristown mounted on his chestnut mare Red Princess, carried off first honors. John F. Talmadge won the red and Dudley Olcott, son of F. P. Olcott, took the blue. In the tandem class only six of the nine entries put in an appearance. The first honors were to the Blair-sden stables, and for the third time during the day a blue ribbon adorned the bride of Mrs. Blair's mare, frills. E. T. H. Talmage carried off second honors with Frederick, and S. L. Cromwell was third. surprise when he romped home a winner eight lengths before Green B. Morris's Somhonors with Frederick, and S. L. Cromwell was third.

In the jumping classes there were only three horses entered. Archibald Alexander had a brown and a bay entered, riding them both in their turn. He received first prize for his brown mare Iseault. The riding of six polo ponies formed a very pleasing part of the day's programme. Those entered in this contest were John F. Talmage, Col. E. A. Stevens, Archibald Alexander, Robert L. Stevens, Jay Coogan, Jr., and Charles M. Chapin, all of Bernardsville. The polo ponies were shown in pairs, racing for a polo bail. Chapin, Stevens and Alexander took list, second and third prizes respectively.

After an exhibition of ponies attached to fancy carts and driven by children, the show was closed late in the afternoon by the showing of five four-in-hands. to get up, but when Martin let Blues down latter galloped away so easily that the backers of Sombrero broke into a storm of hisses. Blues was eased up to a walk at the wire, his time being 2:36 2-5. Sombrere finished six lengths before Advance Guard. who was a length and a half in front of Ar-

Handicap for two-year-olds at about six furlongs, in which Eugenia Burch was a receding favorite at 2 to 1, with Africander, carrying top weight, second choice at 5 to 2, and John E. Madden's River Pirate a whispered good thing, backed down to fives It was a desperate struggle for the lead among Africander, Eugenia Burch, Astarita, River Pirate and Fire Eater to the head of the stretch. Martin never relaxed in his punishment of Africander so that the Star Ruby colt drew away in a heavy drive and won by a length in 1 11 1-5, with River Pirate beating Fire Eater for the place by a head. Eugenia Burch was a length behind.

Alexander Shields's Young Henry ran a sensational race in the highweight handicap for all ages at about six furlongs. He picked up 130 pounds and was practically left at the post, but Lyne took him by way of the overland route and by means of energetic riding he ran over his field in the stretch and won driving by three lengths from Setauket, second choice, who beat Examiner, a 25 to 1 shot, by a neck. Operator and the favorite, Jack Ratlin, were less than a length back. The time was 1.12 3-5.

In the speeplechase handicap at about two miles and a half, there was plenty of excitement because of the numerous accidents. Inspector Stevens, who was made an oddson favorite, fell at the jump opposite the 50-cent field, and thereby burned up thousands of dollars. Victor and Hopbrook also fell, but the latter went on without his rider, took all the jumps and finished within a stone's throw of the horses that were placed. Mr. Chamblet's Scotch Bush, second choice, won in a gallop by four lengths from Thomas W. Lawson's Draughtsman, 25 to 1, the latter being ten lengths before Silent Friend, another 25 to 1 shot. Glenvarloch ran out and Silver Twist threw his rider. The time was 4:582-5.

and Silver Twist threw his rider. The time was 4:58,2-5.

In the fifth race, a selling event for two-year-olds at about six furiongs, Eva Russell, the favorite, was beaten a neck by Milton Young's First Chip, a 15 to 1 shot, who led all the way and won in a drive in 1:12 2-5.

Harrison, a 20 to 1 chance, was third, a length and a half behind. Conundrum won the last event, another selling race, for three-year-olds and upward at a mile and a sixteenth, in a rattling finish. Lyne getting him home a head before Andy Williams, who beat Ben Battle a length. The time was 1 49 2-5.

There was a rumor at the track vesterday that the owner of the Lakewood stable, in whose name Setauket run in the first race, was George Gould, but this was not generally credited. "Snapper" Garrison, the trainer of the horse, said that if Setauket had won on Thursday last, enough money would have been takenout of the ring by the colt's owner to buy Francesco at yesterday's sale. From the general talk it is believed that the real owner of the Lakewood stable is a close friend of E. E. Smathers, the trotting horse man, who denies positively that he has anything to do with the concern.

It 'McLavee A to yesterday sent a letter to the Fasis, Tripton Co, to the effect that they had concluded to sell their stable on account of business which required all their attention, and that they retired, from the turf with many regrets. They also paid a high compliment to their trainer Matt Allen, who incidentally took occasion to deny the report that he has received an offer from William C. Whitney to take charge of the latter's horses next year, George Odomalso denied that he had entered into negotiations with Mr. Whitney.

When Inspector Stevens fell in the steeple-chase vesterday, he turned a complete somera distance of about 210 miles, was made yesterday. The preparatory signal was made 9.45. The wind was fresh, east by north, 1.15 The Sachem was first over the line, followed by the Iroquois thirty seconds later, the Thistle, Endymion and Coronet following in the order named. At Sandy Hook the Endymion led by half a mile, followed by the Iroquois, Sachem, Coronet and Thistle.

The Endymion at 10:30 o'clock passed out by the Hook. The Sachem followed about 200 yards astern. She had just passed the Philapeldhia yacht Iroquois, which, however, was a little to windward. The Thistle was about an eighth of a mile astern of the Iroquois. The wind from the east was moderate, about fifteen miles an hour. The yachts carried all lower sails and topsails, including small libtopsails. At times the lee rails were awash.

The Sachem, when north of Long Branch, gave up and returned inside Sandy Hook about 1 P. M. The Sachem was first over the line, followed Whitney.

When Inspector Stevens fell in the steeple-chase yesterday, he tarned a complete somershall, crushing Jockey Heider beneath him. Heider was carried away in an ambulance to the Seney Hospital. A rumor was soon affoat that he had died from concussion of the brain, but at the hospital last night, the house surgeon said Heider had regained consciousness and was not seriously injured.

Inc. Second Special, won by Blues, was inaugurated in 1886, when it was won by W. Gratz's Elkwood. After that the more prominent winners were Hanover, Kingston, Reporter, Judge Morrow, Lamplighter, Tammany, Clifford, Ben Brush, Imp and Blues, who also won it last year. The distance was originally a mile and a quarter. From 1887 to 1895 it was a mile and a furlong. In 1897 it was nealn a mile and a quarter, and after that it was extended to a mile and a half. AUTOISTS AND CYCLISTS CLASH.

Difference of Opinion About License Or dluance Provokes Sharp Words. The present administration of the League of American Wheelmen in this State is beginning to see its way clear into more trouble through its proposed ordinance to license automobilists. A number of prominent members of the League first took exception to the move, and now matters are getting warm between the wheelmen and the representative automobilists. President Winthrop Scarritt of the American Automobile Association said that while he advocated a license system he thought it in rather poor taste for the cyclists to propose it. He favors a voluntary board of examiners, selected from the mem-the ordinance now in the Law Committee of the Board of Aldermen, came out yesterday with a rather sharp statement in reply to Mr. Scarritt. Mr. Thompson takes exception to the proposition made to have the Automobile Club manage the licensing and says:

"Notwithstanding the somewhat beatific standard of exceilence undoubtedly radiating from those gentlemen, I would suggest that there are some who believe that not all the concentrated wisdom and virtue of the city is to be found within the Automobile Club of America and that there are some who believe that three citizens could be found who would act competently and impartially as a commission to license automobiles. "During the past summer not less than who would act competently and impartially as a commission to license automobiles.

During the past summer not less than three wheelmen have been killed in this city by automobiles, one up the State, another in Connecticut and one in New Jersey. This is sufficient justification for the League interfering, even if it was not piedged to protect the highways from abuses.

As the Automobile Club was looked to for assistance in supporting the ordinance, this little passage between the father of the bill, who is chairman of the Rights and Privileges Committee of the L. A. W. under the Obermayer administration, and Mr. Scarritt, who is one of the governors of the Automobile Club, may affect the chances of the ordinance when it comes up for a public hearing next month.

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. Last of Circuit Meets Off for Good-Monroe's Wonderful Vitality.

It is probable that the final meet of the N. C. A circuit will be called off for good. It postponed yesterday because of rain for the second time. As the track is engaged for athletics next Saturday, and as two weeks from now the money chasers will begin to scatter, it is likely the N. C. A. will cut out the meet.

Ben Monroe, the pace-following cyclist who, with James Hunter, was so frightfully injured at the Baltimore track on Sept. 12, is proving himself a wonder in vitality and recuperative power. Monroe's skull was tractured in three places, and for three days, while he was unconscious, his life was despaired of by the doctors. His skull was trephined and pieces of bone removed at the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and yesterday he was pushing himself about the hospital in his "automobile," as he calls the invalid chair, and signing because he could not race. Hunter is convalescing more slowly, but both are expected to recover completely.

ANALYSIS OF ONE-HORSE WIRE.

Our large force of track experts who watch the workouts of the horses in training on all the Eastern tracks assemble every night, study the entries on the Eastern races for the next day, and determine which is the surest winner on the card. They are assisted in their deliberations by two of the most famous handicappers in the country, and have at their command all the inside stable information gathered through our various turf contheir command all the inside stable information gathered through our various turf connections. As a result, 70 per cent. of the horses they select the year round finish first. The one horse which they decide upon is sent out by this company to over 2,800 cellents from Maine to California as the day's best bet, and the service is known as our Guaranteed One-Horse-Per-Day Wire. The terms and conditions of this wire are as follows:

We charge $10 for it. Immediately upon receipt we telegraph, telephone or hand you or your bookmaker, or both, as you may elect, the name of the horse, and we leontinue daily to do so until the official opening odds, as published in the morning newspapers, show that $50 has been won on a $20 flat bet daily on the horses given. If the first horse we send you in this series is at odds of 2½ to 1, or better, and $50 is won at the first crack, a new subscription of $10 is called for. If it does not win $50 on a $20 flat bet, we continue to send you the One-Horse Wire daily until it is evident from the published opening odds that you have won $50 on a $20 bet after deducting all losses, if there are any.

It is the fairest, squarest, best and surest paying proposition ever brought to your attention. You can't beat it either in racing, stocks, or any other speculative field. We practically charge you 20% of your winnings for furnishing the information. The orly difference is that we collect our commission in advance, and this is done not because we are not confident we can make you win the amount stipulated in the guarantee, but for are not confident we can make you win the amount stipulated in the guarantee, but for or not confident we can make you win the amount supurated in the guarantee, but for obvious other reasons. We can not undertake to send information broadcast to thousands of people, most of whom we do not know, without at least collecting our first fee.

The record of this series is unparalleled in the history of the American turf. Our books show that no subscription has endured over ten days; that is to say, we have never yet failed to make a subscriber a $50 net winner on a $20 daily play within ten days of our guaranteed horses have won since August 1st at odds averaging 4 to 1, and a $20 flat bet on each has netted $1,270 profit after deducting all losses. Record of Winners and Losers

Here is a list of the horses given in the Series during a period equivalent to a racing week. All the horses given since September 11 are included in this list whether they won or lost, except those which were withdrawn. Wherever a day is not accounted for, the horse sent did not start. Look it over.

Sept. II-ROCKWATER, 8 to 5, WON Sept. 12—SERGEANT, 2 to I, WON Sept. 16-SHOT CUN. 5 to 2, SECOND Sept. 17-BOUTONNIERE, 3 to I, WON Sept. 18-ROXANE, 7 to 5, SECOND Sept. 20-CONUNDRUM, 6 to 5, WON

A $20 flat bet on every horse sent since Sept. 11, therefore, shows that $20 has won $110.

A $20 flat bet on every horse sent since Sept. 11, therefore, shows that $20 has won $116. Had you been a subscriber during this period, you would have paid us $10 on Sept. 11, renewed your subscription on Sept. 13, after having won $72, and be still entitled to our information at the close of business last night with $44 more of winnings in your purse.

The operation is as simple as A, B, C. We must make you a winner of not less than $50 before we collect our second fee. Whether you have won $50 or $500 after beginning one subscription, so long as the amount exceeds $50, there is no further payment to us except the new $10 fee, and the prior account stands closed without retroacting against you. That is to say, we do not charge any extra profits you may make over $50 on a $20 daily bet against the operation of your next series.

"If the thing is so good, why don't we play it ourselves?" Well, we do. The stockholders of the Maxim & Gay Company back every horse sent in the series for thousands and their profits are tremendous. The object in selling the information is to make money in that direction also. We make it both ways; by playing the horses and by selling the information. Our incentive to sell it is that by having upwards of 3,000 persons betting $20 each day on the horse we send, we are practically having 20% of that bet for us. That is to say, every day at least $12,000 is bet by its clients for the Maxim & Gay Company, You can easily calculate what we have at stake, and the tremendous efforts we are bound to make to get the very best information that can possibly be corralled as to the best and surest bet each day.

We invite you to kin us. If you cannot place your own money, write us and we will surest bet each day.

heavy footing, the drivers said.

Geers warmed up Prince of Orange and returning to the paddock said. "Why by 20 clock they can trot it in 2:12. I never saw a track drying out so fast."

At 3 o'clock Starter Walker gave the word to the two starters. Chase and The Questor, in the Westchester Stake, a $3,000 event for 2:30 trotters. About 2:000 persons were on the grounds. It was $4.0 for Chase and $12 for The Questor and the pool sellers could not sell many tickets, it being too poor a betting proposition. The Questor was allowed to lead to the homestretch on suffrance. Then Hudson brought up the favorite and made short work of the opening heat—the time, 2:14%, showing that the track was far from as slow as casual observers were led to believe. In the second Hudson's horse had it all his own way. The Mount Vernon Stake of $3,000, poin to 2:14 trotters, had five starters and the plungers were all at sea. Consuella S. proved the best mudlark and won the opening heat in 2:12%, a new record. She tired in the second and Hudson got Alice Russell to the front inside the distance stand. Then Benyon came with Mobel and won out in 2:10%, 2:10%, 2:11%. The official timers hung out 2:10% for the third heat as against 2:00% all over the lawn. As a race it proved one of the best of the week, each driver trying hard for the money. Alice Russell won second and the Directum mare Consuella S. third money. Pretty little Ida Hishwood trotted a splendid race, as she had to negotiate the heaviest of the footing on the homestretch. The 2:19 trot also was a split-heat affair. Oxford Chimes, the full brother of The Monk, 2:35%, winning two fast heats and driving Hudson's fast stallion Baron Bell to a mark of 2:12½ to land the third heat. The early effort cost the Massachusetts trotter the race, as he could not finish with the grandly bred Kentucky horse. He chased Baron Bell to the half in the fluth heat in 1:04% and made a good fight to the short distance stand. It was then seen to be all over and Baron Bell closed it out in the fitth

Gossip of the Ring.

Harry Harris, the bantam of Chicago, who lowered "Pedlar" Palmer's colors a few years ago, may become a lockey. Harris says that on his previous visit to England he was urged by Billy Jenkins, the English horse owner and bookmaker, to become a knight of the pigskin. Harris declined the offer, saying that he preferred America and the ring. It is likely that he will visit England next summer and ride horses for Jenkins. Harris can do its pounds without much trouble, he says.

Joe Choynski, who, outside of Bob Fitzsimmons, has been fighting longer than any other heavy-weight, says there is no truth in the report that he has quit the ring. In a recent interview Joe had this to say: "I am still in harness. I am a little over 32 years old and have been boxing steadily for eighteen years. But I am none the worse for that. I have taken good care of myself and feel just as fine as I did when I was 21 years old. I would like to engage in two figures before I retire, I would like to meet kid Carter and Tommy Ryan."
